CLARKSVILLE ROAD BIDS CALLED

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Inasmuch as they have a job to do in providing holiday fare for millions of dinner tables, California farmers, during the weeks just preceding Thanksgiving Day, are usually too busy to spend much time counting their blessings, or contemplating what they should be thankful for.

This year, too, the farmer's holiday marketing problems are a bit more complicated than usual—due to the fact that the nation will be celebrating Thanksgiving Day on November 30th the traditional last Thursday in November), while the other half will want its turkey and fixings a week earlier on Nov. 23, the new Thanksgiving Day proclaimed by the President.

In California, Governor Olson having chimed in with President Roosevelt in favor of a new Thanksgiving Day (the official feast day will be Nov. 23—thereby adding a week to the shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas, as desired by merchants anxious to lengthen the Christmas buying period. But as California happens to be the biggest turkey producing state in the Union, thousands of California turkey growers will probably be working under full pressure on California's Thanksgiving Day getting ready their final shipments of birds to other states which will celebrate Thanksgiving a week later.

It's all a little confused, but if the turkey market is firm—and growers are able to achieve a fair margin of profit—California farmers will take it all in stride, without worrying too much about the mixup. Farmers are one class of citizens who still recognize that work is the source of income. And if work interferes with holidays, they skip the holidays!

But California farmers—and Californians as a whole—have every reason to be thankful this year, more than at any time, that they live in the United States, free from bombings and slaughter; free from the tread of dictators.

There have been difficult times in the United States; hard times in California which have tried the souls of farmers and business men, workers and professional men.

But California, as Thanksgiving Day approaches, needs to take a look at stricken Poland, ravished by Hitler's war machine; at the German people ignorant of what lies ahead and facing death as traitors if they seek information other than the government-censored news dispatches fed to them; at England and France, calling their young men and their middle-aged men to the colors again—to die on the same battlefields where millions died only two decades ago; at Italy, surrounded by possible enemies, wondering with which side she should make friends; at Russia, ruled by its power-crazed Stalin, and China and Japan slitting each other's throats on a hundred battlefields.

If there are bumper harvests in Europe, there are no profits for the farmers—for the governments of Europe confiscate income by ruinous war-taxes, even as they confiscate the food for armies that must fight on full stomachs.

In California, to be sure, farmers are beset with difficulties that seem to baffle solution; labor strife flares in many sections and markets are still uncertain; taxes are too high and may go higher.

But in California, there is still hope, if Californians—farmers and farm workers, business men and business employees, industrialists and industrial labor, public officials and voters—will all recognize that they have it in their power to find security and a decent livelihood for themselves and their neighbors by forgetting petty differences and all pulling together.

In Europe, there is little of hope.

In California, there is every reason for hope.

And California citizens, regardless

LIONS MARK ARMISTICE

Grammar School Pupils Give Program Showing Citizenship Interest

Placerville Lions went on record at their meeting today noon as favoring November 23 as the date for the observance of Thanksgiving Day in Placerville and urging that all stores and offices close on that day. The motion also included the expression of "business as usual on Thursday, November 30."

Placerville Lions devoted their Tuesday meeting at Hotel Raffles to a patriotic program in observance of Armistice Day, which falls on Saturday of this week. The attendance was such that all places laid in the main dining room were filled and an overflow table was set up in the adjoining court.

Guests of Lions for the day were Major Evan Kelly, of Missoula, Montana, guest of Lion Max Baer; W. E. Jenkinson, guest of Lion Thomas Maul; and R. L. McLennan, guest of Lion C. J. McMurray.

The special program for the day was under the direction of the club's Americanization committee and presented eleven pupils from the eighth grade classes of Placerville Grammar School, who were accompanied by Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, of the faculty.

The children gave a series of talks demonstrating their interest in Citizenship and in general support of the aims and purposes for which the club's committee on Americanization functions.

Those who took part in the program are Edith Mae Shafer, Margaret Morehouse, Maxine Bathurst, Karl Herrman, George Cook, Clayburn McClintic, Jack Woodward,

New Motel Near Completion

Strawberry Resort Now Preparing For Winter; Fish Are Thriving

The erection of the fourteen-unit motel building at Strawberry resort is near completion, it was disclosed Monday by James K. Pierson, who is in charge of the resort development for Fred Baumhoff.

Mr. Pierson said the principal work at the resort at this time is in the nature of preparing for winter when work outside will be impossible.

In view of the circumstance that U. S. Route 50 will not be open to travel above Kyburz during the snow season and in consideration of other circumstances, Strawberry Resort does not expect to offer any service during the coming winter months, Mr. Pierson indicated.

Mr. Pierson said that the exterior of the main resort building is nearing completion and that some work on the inside of the structure will go forward during the winter months.

"The fish are doing fine," he said. "We have some that are seven or eight inches long that were planted as fry last Spring. We have about 15,000 that are five inches long. They seem to grow at the rate of about an inch a month, we have noticed."

Mr. Pierson said that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baumhoff, who have been here the past week, will return to their Idaho mining business on Wednesday of this week.

A license to wed was issued at the county clerk's office on Monday, November 6th, to Gerald P. Kirkham, 46, and Mary Jane Douglas, 51, who had declared their intention to wed on October 25th.

Ranger M. D. Morris, of Pacific District, was a caller at the forest headquarters on Tuesday morning.

Next German Ruler?

London reports indicate a "rightful German government," similar to the Polish government-in-exile in Paris, may be established in London, with Dr. Hermann Rauschning as chancellor. The government, headed by exiles from Nazism, would be backed financially by Britain. Dr. Rauschning was once president of the Danzig senate.

XMAS FESTIVAL IS ASSURED

Merchants Announce Free Show For Tots 10 A. M. December 2nd

Placerville merchants announced Tuesday that their plans for a community observance of the Christmas season are nearing completion and that a fund of $225 has been subscribed for decorating the business section of the community and for otherwise promoting the Christmas spirit.

Following preliminary announcement two weeks ago, Albert Simon, chairman of the committee, announced Tuesday that merchants will be hosts to the small children of the county at a free motion picture show at the Empire theater on Saturday, December 2nd.

Mr. Simon made special point of the announcement that the free show will take place at ten o'clock in the morning and stressed that feature, expressing the hope that there would be no confusion in the public mind as to the hour of the free show.

"While our plans are outlined generally, they are still in such form that they may be amended and the committee will welcome any suggestions from interested friends," Mr. Simon said.

"The ladies of the Shakespeare Club have consented to serve as the judges in the contest for the best decorated Christmas trees, and also in the contest for the best out-of-door decorations. The club will appoint a committee of judges and their awards will be final."

Mr. Simon said that in the community decoration program, large trees, lighted and decorated, will be installed near Raley's store, at the bell tower, at the court house and near the Ivy House. Garlands will be hung across Main Street from Lower Main Street to the Pioneer Grocery.

PHEASANT SEASON CLOSED AGAIN THIS YEAR IN EL DORADO COUNTY

There will be no open season this year on pheasants in El Dorado County.

This is according to word received by John A. Winkelman from the state Fish and Game Commission.

Pheasant season opens in this section of the state on November 15.

Mr. Winkelman and other members of the Rod and Gun Club have been co-operating with the fish and game department and with the Mt. Ralston Fish Planting Club, of Sacramento, in the propagation of pheasants and other game birds in the county for several years past and there were hopes among some sportsmen that an open pheasant season might be declared in the county this year.

However, there is none such.

EARLY START ON WORK IS SEEN

Offers To Build 5.8-Mile Section Will Be Opened By State On November 29th

The Division of Highways, Department of Public Works, will open bids at the Assembly Room in the Public Works Building at Sacramento on Wednesday, November 29, on proposals for building a new highway realignment in the Clarksville district.

This is according to a Notice to Contractors received for the necessary legal publication. The notice will be published November 9th and in two succeeding issues thereafter of The Mountain Democrat.

The realignment project is 5:8 miles in length and is described in the notice to contractors as lying within Sacramento and El Dorado Counties "between 3 3-4 miles east of Folsom and 2 1-4 miles east of Clarksville" and will be "graded and surfaced with plant-mixed surfacing on crusher run base."

A survey for the new alignment was understood to have been established several months ago. It is understood that the easterly end of the project is near the old barn which stands at the left of the highway as one drives toward Folsom, east of the Charles Mayhew residence. It is reported that the new alignment cuts across the Mayhew property near the residence, and proceeds almost on a direct line down the nrotherly side of the ravine and across through the hills to connect with the existing road near a ditch crossing which is approximately a half or three-quarters of a mile south of the railroad crossing near Folsom.

Wentz Funeral From Church

Last Rites Wednesday At 2 O'Clock; Rev. Barron Will Conduct Service

The last rites for Philip Franklin Wentz will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Church of Our Saviour and will be conducted by the Rev. Rex A. Barron, rector of the church. Interment will be at Pleasant Valley.

This is according to arrangements announced Tuesday morning by the M.O'Keefe mortuary.

Mr. Wentz, a resident of the county since 1858 and a pioneer in the Fairpay district, passed away Sunday at a hospital in Sacramento where he had been operated upon last week in the hope of improving his failing sight. Pneumonia developed.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Mary Wentz, he is survived by two brothers, Ben Wentz, of near Shingle; and Bert Wentz, of Placerville. He also is survived by several nieces and nephews and a large number of other relatives more distantly removed.

Placerville Couples End 5,000-Mile Trip

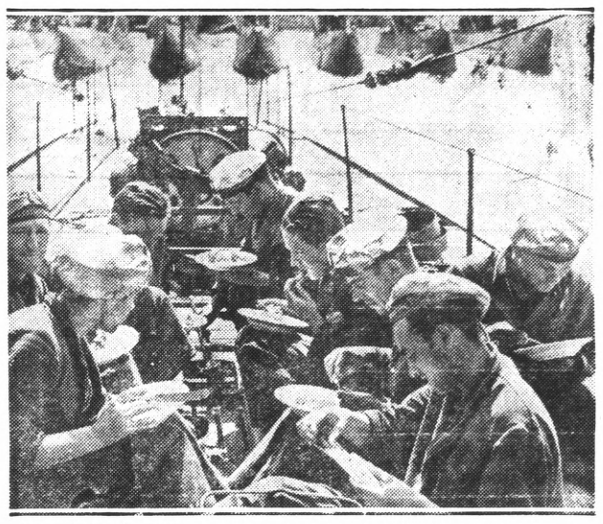

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Perry S. Tracy returned to Placerville on Thursday evening, of last week concluding a 5,000-mile trip spanning about three weeks.

The four went east from California by train, stopping at Flint, Michigan, where the Nelsons took delivery of a new Buick sedan purchased through the Bert Frey agency.

From there their route took them into Canada and back into the United States, as Buffalo, thence to Washington, D. C., Alexandria, Va., New Orleans and through Texas, New Mexico and Arizona to the Grand Canyon, Boulder Dam and home through Bakersfield.

Mr. Tracy reports that they saw many wonderful and unusual sights but none so attractive as California.

U-Boat Luxury—Meal on Deck

This photo of a German submarine crew, just returned from a tour of duty, enjoying the luxury of a meal on deck, also gives for the first time since outbreak of war a view of a flotilla of Nazi U-boats in an unnamed naval base. At least six of the undersea craft can be seen riding their moorings in background.

FLIES AND FERTILIZER, GARBAGE AND GASOLINE BEFORE COUNCIL

$181,000 City-Wide Street Improvement Project Application Completed; Engineer Suggests Union Street Cross-Town Arterial

The city council met regularly Monday night for November and adjourned half an hour before midnight until the first Monday in December unless called earlier by the chairman.

Matters before them included a variety of subjects among which were flies and fertilizer, garbage and gasoline and the receipt of an engineer's outline for a city-wide WPA project spanning a period of two years at an estimated total cost of $181,000 in which the city's share would be made up by the funds regularly expended for street work.

Don M. Hoffman, who had been employed to work up the project, also submitted a suggestion for the development of a new cross-town arterial following the general route of what is now known as Union Street. The new proposed route, Hoffman said, was not included in the WPA project application since the present WPA set-up does not provide assistance in acquiring rights of way and he did not suspect that the city is prepared at this time to acquire rights of way. However, he said, the suggestion was presented to the council because it is obvious to any person in a traffic survey that such a route is needed.

Hoffman proposed that the suggested arterial would be devoted chiefly to truck travel for the relief of Main Street congestion.

The council received the general report and voted to present it immediately. In a way the report and the application based upon it is preliminary, since it is not binding ture of a declaration of intention to upon the city but is more in the nature undertake some kind of street work in the city for which WPA labor may be used.

At such time as the city is desirous of proceeding under the application, specific unit projects may be developed and presented for WPA approval.

However, work done under the application would be done out of the funds regularly available for street work and would not entail additional expense to the city.

Another highlight of the meeting was the Council's reversal of its stand in the matter of permitting the establishment of wholesale petroleum products depots to be erected in the easterly part of the city.

The council previously had taken the stand that oil depots in the easterly part of the city and particularly along the banks of Hangtown Creek constitute a fire hazard to the community, in that under certain circumstances the creek might become a river of fire which would destroy a large section of the town.

The matter came up again Monday night in the matter of a renewal of an application by the Richfield Oil Company to erect a

PLACERVILLE COUPLE WED OCTOBER 29TH AT VIRGINIA CITY

Friends are learning of the marriage at Virginia City, Nevada, on October 29th, of Miss Carol Russell and Don Westerman, both of Placerville.

Mrs. Westerman for almost a year past has been employed with the Cash Mercantile Stores, Inc., in Placerville. Her husband is employed in the Placerville branch of the Bank of America.

Mrs. Westerman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Pickens Russell, of Dinuba, a graduate of the high school there and of the junior college at Reedley.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Westerman, of near El Dorado, and a graduate of the county high school.

Both have been active in the affairs of the younger set in the community and have a large circle of friends with whom we join in extending congratulations and all good wishes to the happy couple.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS TO NAME OFFICERS NOVEMBER 17TH

Nominations of candidates for offices in Hangtown Camp, Spanish War Veterans, which were opened at the meeting of the camp last Friday evening, will remain open until next regular meeting on November 17th, when the election will be held.

Nominees for active offices are Robert McLennan, commander; U. C. Meyers, senior vice commander; Ben Goe, junior vice-commander; George Woods, chaplain and C. T. Bryan and Samuel Waters for officer of the day.

At the Friday meeting the camp had as guests Col. H. H. Brown, department inspector; John O'Leary, district inspector; Richard Bloss, Department chairman of recruiting; and "Silent" Smith, officer of the day for J. Holland Laidler Camp.

The installation of officers for Hangtown Camp will take place January 14th at a meeting for which special preparations are under way.

POLLS CLOSE AT 7 P.M.

Early Morning Rush Slacks Off, May Gain Later In Afternoon

The prospects shortly after noon as far as local precincts were concerned was that the total of vote cast in the county will fall considerably short of the eighty per cent which some state officials have predicted.

Although voting during the early morning was active, with several precincts reporting a vote of about twenty-five per cent by ten o'clock, the returns by noon indicated a slacking off in voting and while reports from Smith Flat precinct told of a fifty per cent vote about one o'clock, some precincts in Placerville were far short of that figure.

There was a suspicion among election officials that the favorable weather would result in a stronger turnout at the polls during the later afternoon although none would predict an eighty per cent vote in the county.

The polls opened at six o'clock this morning and will close at seven o'clock this evening, or as soon thereafter as the persons then in line have voted.

County Clerk Koletzke was in his office most of the day and was answering inquiries from election officials concerning specific problems with which they were confronted by telephone.

The special election is on five propositions:

Number One, the proposed Retirement Life Payments Act; Number Two, relative to the practice of chiropracty; Numbers Three and Four, regulating the small loans business; and Number Five, proposing to set up a state control of oil and gas business.

Casaba Tossers Meet Thursday

County Hoop League's Prospects For 8th Year Held Strong

With football over the mid-season hump and running down-hill toward Big Games, "little big games" and "middle-sized big games," county basketball league followers are turning their thoughts toward getting things started for the season's eighth consecutive season.

Accordingly, all basketball managers have been asked to meet at the high school on Thursday evening of this week at 8 o'clock for a conference at which the probable number of teams in the league this season will be ascertained, and a start on making a schedule will be instituted.

Although it is understood that there has been some "off the record" preparations for the coming season, as far as is known no club has yet gone so far as to get in an active practice. The continuing interest in the sport and the substantially larger turn-out of fans for games last year gives promise of another successful league season.

GOLF CLUB DINNER TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY EVENING

The Golf Club will institute plans for another season at a dinner meeting to be held Wednesday evening, November 8th, at Hotel Raffles.

A circular letter reminding members and other golfing enthusiasts of the dinner date sets 7:30 o'clock as the hour for the supper.

Early fall rains are reported to have started the grass on the fairways and Larry Kelly, the club pro, is again on the job, having recently returned from Strawberry resort, where he has been assisting in getting the new nine-hole course started there.

fenders and fast as a jackrabbit with floating power . . . far above Cayuga's waters loyal Cornellian wholesale depot on Washington street.

Mayor George E. Faugsted said his attitude toward the proposal was not against the Richfield application, but against the practice of permitting further fire hazard of the nature outined above. He did not feel that "two wrongs make a right" and did not believe that merely because earlier city councils had permitted the establishment of oil depots in the easterly part of the city, that the present city council could be excused for doing so.

Councilman A. H. Greeley moved to remove the council's objection to the Richfield proposal and Councilman Sid Price seconded the motion. On the vote, Councilman Charles Molinari voted with Greeley and Price and Councilman Faugsted and Councilman James K. Pierson voted "Nay."

Molinari said after the vote was taken that his interest is solely the question of whether such a plant can be safely put in and not be a fire hazard, and indicated he reserves the right to vote against the specific plans for the plant when they may come before the council for approval in the future.

In the general run of business, Attorney Hale Day was present on behalf of Blair Brothers Cabinet Shop, he said, inquiring as to the Council's intentions toward enacting in due form an amendment to the zoning ordinance exmpting Block Six from its provisions. The council had indicated at a meeting on September 18th that it would do this.

Councilmen explained that the failure to put through the amendment immediately was due to the fact that it was thought possible other property owners might have changes to suggest. However, there was no application for other changes on file and at Mr. Day's suggestion the Council called upon City Attorney Thomas Maul to prepare an amendment to the zoning ordinance relative to Block Six for consideration at its next meeting.

J. G. Leonardi, Mrs. Clara Rupley and Dr. Lester B. Rantz, members of the board of trustees of Placerville Grammar School, attended the meeting with their district superintendent, John H. Palmer. Mr. Palmer as spokesman informed the Council that the school board is desirous of obtaining rain coats and storm hats for the thirteen members of the Junior Traffic Patrol and that in as much as the work of the patrol is of benefit to the city, it was thought possible the city would be willing to share in the expense of such equipment.

Preliminary investigation, he said, indicated that such equipment would cost about $3.50 per boy, and there are thirteen boys in the patrol. The school board, he said, would be willing to share half the expense up to a maximum of $60.

The Council voted to share similarly, making a total of $60 available for the purpose.

Mr. Palmer also asked for a light on Cottage street near the schoolhouse, which was recommended.

Discussion brougnt out the advisability of having an arterial "Stop" sign at Union and Cottage Streets, which was also recommended.

Engineer Hoffman's report on the city-wide street improvement project and the matter of the Richfield oil depot were then taken up.

After these were disposed of, letters from the governing board of the high school and from High School Principal B. E. Larson relative to the need for sidewalk and street work, and more specific traffic regulation in the vicinity of Canal and Bee Streets, were received and read. The council indicated the requests will be kept in mind in connection with any project units which may be developed in the city-wide street program.

Mayor Faugsted revealed he has appealed for the aid of the State Board of Health at Sacramento as a result of an apparent infestation of house flies in the community. He declared the pests are present in larger numbers than they have ever been known to be in recent years and that there seems to be no apparent explanation.

He has made some investigation, he said, particularly at the city sewage plant, and is positive that the flies are not breeding there. There was a suggestion that possibly conditions at the city dump might be encouraging the infestation.

Council Molinari reported all card rooms are complying with the city ordinance.

Councilman Greeley reported an application from John Martin, who is caretaker of the sewage plant, for an increase in pay. At the time Mr. Mratin was employed, the council offered to pay $60 a month with the thought that the work would constitute a half-time job.

In the discussion of Mr. Martin's application, and in connection with the earlier review of the fly infestation, it was suggested that perhaps Mr. Martin might also take charge of the city dump for which the council would be willing to pay $20 per month.

Mr. Greeley said he would inquire of Mr. Martin whether it would be possible for him to attend to both projects satisfactorily.

Mr. Martin's application also led to a discussion of fertilizer. The city has, from the sewage disposal plant, a large quantity of odorless fertilizer available but thus far has been unable to give much of it away, much less sell it. With a continuing supply and no demand, the city faces a problem of disposition.

The fire chief's report for October mentioned two fires with a total loss estimated at $1,535.

SCOUTING

Jim Dyer, Scoutmaster of troop 57, Carl Gertz, Scoutmaster of Troop 86, and George Lindsay, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 57, report that their overnight camp Saturday night for members of the respective Boy Scout troops, at Webber Creek, was a great success. The boys hiked out Saturday morning and afternoon set up the camp and slept in their pup tents or out in the open in their sleeping bags Saturday night. Troop 95 of Diamond was also represented.

Sunday morning at eight o'clock the boys assembled in a sunny spot in the camp ground and held church services. The program consisted of a song, followed by a fifteen minute sermon by Glendale Mouritsen, presiding elder of the Latter Day Saints Church of Placerville.

The remainder of Sunday morning was spent in passing tests for the coming Court of Honor in December. The boys returned home shortly after noon.

CAMINO TURKEY SHOOT SCHEDULED SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 12TH

The Camino Wooden Box Whiskerino Club has announced plans to hold a turkey shoot on Sunday at the Camino Skeet Club grounds.

Arrangements have been made for skeet and trap-shooting and for other contests with which all "turkey shooters" are familiar.

The shoot is open to the wide world and posters have been run off our presses and are being posted throughout the county inviting sportsmen to join the fun.

GARDEN VALLEY TURKEY SHOOT ANNOUNCED FOR SUNDAY

Garden Valley residents have announced plans for a turkey shoot to be held on Sunday, November 12th, to which all sportsmen are invited.

The scene of the shoot will be near the Garden Valley Hall and the usual turkey shoot rules and regulations will prevail.

At the instance of sponsors of the event, posters calling attention to the shoot have been struck off on our presses and are being posted throughout the county.

Dillinger reported on the Hallowe'en party for the children; Woodward Fox reported on the club's welfare work for October (two dental cases and one pair of glasses); and Don Prouty called attention to the evening meeting planned for next Tuesday at the Ivy House, when Jackson Lions will attend and Deputy Governor Jerrold Seawell, of Roseville, will be the guest of honor and main speaker.

"IT COULD HAPPEN TO YOU" HAT STUART ERWIN IN PRINCIPAL ROLE

Stuart Erwin's featured role "It Could Happen to You," the new 20th Century-Fox mystery film which opens at the Empire Theatre tonight gives him the kind of opportunity millions of people would like to have—a chance to get back at the boss. He plays the part of a shy young $35 a week advertising man with sudden bursts of creativeness.

Playing opposite pretty Gloria Stuart, who takes the role of his clever and resourceful wife, Erwin has made the most of the chance to show how a youthful inhibited advertising man can shake off his reticence and tell his superiors about his big ideas.

An entirely new set of childhood classics with "Five Little Peppers and How They Grew," is the second picture. Featuring Edith Fellows at the head of a large cast, the picturization of the Margaret Sidney novel has been hailed as another feather in the cap of Hollywood. For not only is it claimed that the new film will revive the golden memories of old Pepper fans, but it is also claimed that the merry little Peppers will win many new friends in their new medium.

R. C. M. Berriman, former ranger on Georgetown district of Eldorado Forest, is a patient at Mercy Hospital, Sacramento. Mr. Berriman has been residing at Georgetown since his retirement from active work owing to failing health and became a hospital patient on Monday.

A license to wed was issued at the the county clerk's office on Monday, November 6th. to Stephen J. Erm, 34, and Veva Cora Butts, 35, who on October 31 had declared their intention to wed.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Grid-irony: Michigan must have an awful Champion hangover after the party given by Bob Zupke and Illinois . . . Michigan's new "point a minute" team played up to its name—but only for seven minutes . . . the Illinois victory not only increased Zupke's reputation as a coach, but added to his prestige as a painter . . . he is first worker in oils ever to paint an entire state blue in two and a half hours.

Now that the arms embargo has been lifted we wonder if Minnesota, through its purchasing agent, Bernie Bierman, will be able to buy armaments that will enable it to win a football game . . . in beating Minnesota the Northwesterns finally shook loose Bill De Correvont and the youngster made his scrapbook come to life . . . for a few seconds he looked as good as his press clippings read.

Tennessee stuck another rose in its hair by knocking off Louisiana State and the only thing that can keep the Vols out of the Rose Bowl is a discontinuance of transcontinental travel . . . the Tennessee backs were so fast that had they been in Baton Rouge on the day of THE great disappearance they would have caught Prexy Smith before he got to the city limits.

The Oregon Trail doesn't lead to the Rose Bowl anymore . . . the Oregon State Beavers bowed out before Howard Jones' Southern California Trojans . . . the Trojans used only three first string quarterbacks in the game which would indicate that Jones has finally cut down his squad to a neat, workable unit of 250 or thereabouts . . . we now know the origin of the expression "an army travels on its stomach" . . . the man who coined the phrase saw the Army play Notre Dame.
